

András Simonovits: Biographical Sketch

Personal

Born in Budapest, Hungary, 1946. Married, three children, three grandchildren.

Education

Mathematics, Lorand Eotvos University of Sciences, Budapest: MA: 1965–1970.

Ph.D. 1976

Economics: Karl Marx University of Economics, Budapest: 1982

Honors, Grants

Gyula Farkas Memorial Award, 1974

Doctor of Economics Sciences, 1991

Officer's Cross of the Republic, 2007.

Grants from the Hungarian National Scientific Fund, 1990–

Employment

Institute of Economics, HAS, 1970–

Department of Economics, Central European University: 1996–, Recurrent Visiting Professor

Mathematical Institute, Budapest University of Technology, 1999–, Full Professor

Visiting Appointments

CORE (Louvain-la-Neuve) Fellowship 1978/79

University of Illinois at Urbana–Champaign, 1984

Wesleyan University Middletown, Connecticut, 1987

CentER (Tilburg) Fellowship, 1992

Fulbright Visiting Scholarship 1997

Activities

Member of the European Winter School, Econometric Society

Editorial Board of the Mathematical Social Sciences cc 1994–1998

Editorial Board of the Structural Change and Economic Dynamics, cc 1996–

Bodies

Member of the Hungarian Accreditation Committee, 1997–2000

Member of the Roundtable for Pensions, 2007–

Member of the Hungarian Economics Committee, 2003–

List of Publications

separately